Yankee Album Showing at Addison

"New England Album", a collection of paintings of the New England scene which should bring a touch of nostalgia to those who have travelled to the familiar show-places in this part of the country in summers past, is being shown at the Addison Gallery of American Art through September 7.

The collection has been made from the viewpoint that the migration of job-weary families to beaches and mountains all through New England, a familiar phenomenon in time of peace, has been largely curtailed by the war. As the catalog says, "Pleasure must often-times be snatched vicariously, and so this group of pictures of New England, from the pastoral scenes of Vermont to fog-bound glimpses of the sea, has been gathered as a souvenir of other summers."

Town Team Goes After Tenth Straight Sunday

Fresh from its ninth straight win and its thirteenth of the season, the Andover town team will face the Wakefield nine Sunday afternoon at the local playstead. Previously, it had been scheduled for a game with the Boston Colored Wolverines, which, however, asked what officials of the local club felt was an unreasonable guarantee, and other services the Townies were not prepared to offer.

Wakefield is reported to have a fast, strong club this year. The squad is led by a pitcher who has been signed up by the Red Sox, and who was assigned to the Sox American Association farm earlier in the year. Because of his uncertain draft status and the fact that he is in defense work, he will not report to the Southern team until next year.

Series of Breaks Over Weekend

Thief Also Active at Pomp's Pond Friday

Two breaks occurring within half a mile the same night, and a number of minor offenses, gave the appearance of a minor crime wave here last week-end.

Last Friday, Joseph Higginson, superintendent of the Marland mills, reported to police that entry had been made into one of the company-owned garages on Stevens street, and several others had been tampered with. The locks had been pried open on four stalls of the long building and one, belonging to Robert F. Souter of 174 North Main street, close by, had been entered. Wires in the motor of Souter's car had been crossed, evidently in an attempt to start the vehicle, but the wire-crossing was an amateurish job, and the vandals were evidently unable to get the engine running.

On the same day, Peter Flannery of 96 Maple avenue asked for an officer to investigate a break there. Sgt. W. R. Hickey, investigating, found that there had been no one at home that afternoon or

Purple Heart Is Awarded Posthumously to Poynter

In a letter received by his family this week from Under-Secretary of War Robert Patterson, announcement was made that the Order of the Purple Heart has been bestowed by President Roosevelt, posthumously on Lieut. Edward P. Poynter, AAF. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Poynter of School street, are at present at their summer home in Durham, N. H.

First details of the manner in which young Poynter met his death in the North American area July 15 were contained in the letter with the brief statement that he had "been killed in a crash landing on a mission to Kiska."

Lieut. Poynter, 23 years old, was a co-pilot on a B-24 Liberator bomber, and had been in the Alaskan area since early April. He was a graduate of Phillips academy, where his father is an instructor, with the class of 1940, and later attended Kenyon college.

It was the second time in two weeks that the Purple Heart was awarded to an Andover man, Pvt. Arthur J. Gauthier, U. S. M. C., son of the Ernest Gauthiers of Ferndale avenue, who was killed in action on Guadalcanal last November, having received the decoration last week.

Religion Students Welcomed Sunday

Many Local People Help Unique School

The convocation of the Northern New England School of Religious Education, following the afternoon registration in the Borden Gymnasium, will take place Sunday at 7 p. m. in the meeting room of George Washington hall. Dr. Claude M. Fuess, Alan R. Blackmer, and Mrs. Reeve Chipman will extend the greetings of Phillips and Abbot academies, which are serving as hosts for the 28th session of this well-known interdenominational leadership training school.

Dr. Ruth Richards Miller of Somerville, executive secretary, will present the 40 members of the faculty and staff, and Dr. Frederick M. Meek, of Bangor, Me., chairman of the board of trustees, will give the address. Townspeople are cordially invited to be present.

Other evening meetings will include a get-acquainted party in the Borden Gymnasium on Monday; addresses by Rabbi Cohon of Boston, and Dr. Arthur O. Rinden, formerly of China, on Tuesday and Wednesday, respectively, at 7:15 in Davis

State Guard Planning Bivouac in September

The local company of the State Guard resumed its regular Sunday drill period this week, after its recent encampment at Pumps Pond.

On Sunday, the training period was divided between close order drill and guard practice, with the recruits being separately instructed by Cpl. Edward Thorbin.

Capt. H. Garrison Holt announced that in view of the success of the recent encampment at Pumps Pond, another bivouac will probably be held during September.

Sunday afternoon Lt. Kenneth S. Minard's rifle instruction group met at the range to practice firing from the kneeling, sitting, and off-hand positions. A few of the men who had previously qualified as riflemen engaged in revolver practice.

Wednesday evening Lieutenant G. C. Emmons' tactical school met at the Case Memorial Cage, Phillips academy, for its weekly session.

Just nine days after last month's draft group left to begin active service, the August selective service quota left this morning for the induction station in Boston for their medical examinations.

The men in the quota were:

From Andover: Joseph R. W. Beliveau, 73-A North street; John J. Clarke, South Main street; John F. Crosley, Rocky Hill road; Allan B. Dix, 135 Main street; Harold J. Ellis, Jr., 16 Chestnut street; David Forbes, 2 Temple place; James M. Gillen, 7 Maple avenue; John B. Leitch, 11 Johnson road; Joseph T. McAtamney, 6 Buxton court; William J. McCarthy, 46 Chestnut street; Peter J. Myers, 49½ Elm street; James L. Phillips, 5 Windsor street; Robert D. Riley, 34 Dufton road; John J. Ronan, 50 Morton street; Ivar L. Sjostrom, Jr., 84 Main street; Josef R. Wiehr, 7 Johnson road.

From North Andover: Peter J. Bobek, 31 E. Water street; Salvatore Gali, 25 Harwood street; James D. Canty, 274 Hillside avenue; Irving G. Dow, 283 Sutton street; Ernest F. Fionte, 82 Longwood avenue; Eugene V. Fionte, 82 Longwood avenue; Victor F. Harris, 69-A Water street; Peter Mandry, 219 Summer street; Joseph P. O'Connor, 49 Sutton street; James R. Palumbo, 39 Riverview street; Richard L. Smith, Beverly street; John Tomaski, 25 Camden street; John C. Walsh, 41 Main street; Charles J. Whitaker, 69 Milk street; Paul Wood, 346 Salem street; Joseph Radcliffe, 39 Furber avenue; Charles O. Davis, 42 Clark street.

From other communities: Fred J. Cavallaro, 295 Jackson street, Lawrence; John V. DeSalvo, 9 Gordon street, Framingham; Joseph J. Flanagan, 55 Knox street, Lawrence; Richard M. Gummere, Jr., 115 Newbury street, Boston; James T. McClellan, 1273 Washington street, Gloucester; Louis J. Pette-ruto, 1628 E. Anaheim street, Long Beach, Calif.; Alden S. THE A

Twomey Will Address Coming Police Meeting

JEREMIAH TWOMEY

Local police will take part in a quarterly conference to be held in Lawrence, under the sponsorship of the Boston FBI office, August 20. Jeremiah Twomey, assistant clerk of Superior court, will be the principal speaker at the meeting, which will be held at the Lawrence YMCA hall at 2:30 that afternoon.

Regular members of the department attending will be Chief George A. Dane and Officers David Gillespie, Frank McBride, Joseph Lynch and Arthur Jowett. Representing the auxiliary police will be Officers Preston Blake, Winston Blake, J. Kenrick Butler and George Porter.

Mr. Twomey will represent the American Legion, with which he has long been prominent, in a discussion of Americanism. An FBI official will discuss the increasing number of violations of the federal impersonation statute by persons masquerading as military and naval personnel.

Sjostrom Recital In Free Church

Ivar L. Sjostrom, Jr., of Andover, organist at St. Michael's church in Milton will present a recital at the Free church next Thursday evening at 7:45.

Mr. Sjostrom who has a large following in this part of the state has given numerous recitals at Serlo hall in Methuen. In addition to being an accomplished organist, he has conducted a number of choral groups, among them the MacDowell club of Boston and the Bach-Brahms chorus of Methuen.

The recital will be given on the Donald Memorial organ, an instrument of unusually high quality which adequately responds to the demands of an organist whose program is exceedingly diversified.

Mr. Sjostrom will offer the following program: Purcell . . . Trumpet Tune; Clerambault . . . Prelude; Samuel Wesley . . . Gavotte; Bach . . . Chorale, "Sleepers Wake"; Bach . . . Toccata and Fugue in D Minor; Handel . . . Air in F; D'Aquin . . . Variations on a Noel; Karg-Elert . . . Harmonies du Soir; Schumann . . . Sketch in D flat; Flor Peeters . . . Evening Rest; Lynnwood Farnam . . . Toccata on "Ye Sons and Daughters."

There is no admission charge, and the public is invited after 7:15 p. m., August 19.

Miss Ellen Calder has returned to her home in Philadelphia after a visit with Mrs. Grant Silva of Maple avenue.

Consider Site of New Town Building

About 50 prominent citizens here are considering the purchase of the old Shaw estate on Main street, near Punchard avenue, with a view to offering it to the town, at the next town meeting, as a proposed site for a new town hall. One meeting of the group has already been held, and a more detailed announcement is expected to be made after a second meeting this evening.

The town will, of course, be free to buy or not to buy the site at the next town meeting; if it should decide to, the property will be offered by the group at the exact price at which they bought it; if it should not, they will dispose of it in ordinary real estate channels.

About six sites were considered before the Shaw estate was decided upon as the most attractive. The response from those interested in purchasing a share of the property has so far been unexpectedly enthusiastic.

The group desires to reserve the property at this time because it is understood that another purchaser is interested in it, and to avoid the necessity of calling a special town meeting to approve the purchase.

Vale Carnival Plans Are Well Under Way

Preliminary plans for their annual carnival were discussed last night at a meeting of the Ballardvale Playground association. The carnival, which will have a large number of features, will be held at the playground August 26.

Mrs. Lionel Buckley is serving as general chairman. Mrs. Ralph Greenwood is in charge of milk, tonic and sandwiches, assisted by Mrs. George Forsythe, Mrs. James Nicoll and Mr. and Mrs. Carroll.

The grab table will be in charge of Mrs. Clyde Mears and Miss Marjorie Mears, and the roast corn table, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O'Hara, Mrs. Henry Wrigley and Mrs. Albert Coates.

Mrs. James Schofield will be in charge of popcorn, bakery and candy, aided by Mrs. Fraser Colpitts, Mrs. Arthur White and Mrs. Edward Stevens. The white elephant table will be supervised by Mrs. John Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Sharp and Mrs. Willard Myers.

The committee will meet again at the playground next Wednesday evening at 7:00.

Announce Defense Changes

The local Committee on Public Safety announced this week the resignation of John M. MacKenzie as executive secretary. Mr. MacKenzie is resigning because his business takes him out of town a great deal, and much of his free time is taken up with his school committee functions. No successor has been named as yet.

Wallace E. Brimer of Orchard street has been named deputy chairman of the committee, William S. Hughes succeeding him as head of the committee on services and supplies.

Miss Gladys Brainerd, clerk in the Old Age Assistance office, is enjoying a vacation at Ogunquit, Maine.

WITH THE BOYS IN SERVICE

John C. Brown of 102 Main street now wears a captain's bars at Seymour Johnson Field, N. C., where he is assigned to the post dental clinic.

Before entering the Army last September, Capt. Brown was a practicing dentist here, having received his A. B. degree from Harvard college in 1934, his D. M. D. from Harvard Dental in 1938.

AT EASE!

Aux. 1c Josephine Strout of the WAC, daughter of the John W. Strouts of Andover, is now stationed at Tinker Field, Oklahoma City, Okla. There she's statistical clerk at what the AAF considers its "model establishment for the maintenance and repair of aircraft and the training of air depot groups". After attending Shaw business college in Portland, Me., Aux. Strout was employed in the Arlington mills office in Lawrence.

Terence Sweeney of Summer street has just graduated from radio school at Truax Field, Madison, Wis., and is to be an operator in the Army airways communications system—highly technical work, but very interesting, according to Terry, who expects to be shipped out anytime.

Ernie Perrault, another of Andover's sizeable group of SeaBees, is now at Camp Endicott, R. I.

Pvt. Will Pelletier is now at Camp Campbell, Ky.

A/C John H. Thomas reports that he's packing his bags for a trip to another AAF training field.

Did we ever mention that Lt. Ray Hickey is now with one of the Westover Field anti-sub squadrons?

Pfc. Jimmy Reilly of Shawsheen, formerly at Baltimore's Holabird Field, has proceeded to Drew Field, Fla.

Pvt. Ken Downs, formerly at Greenwood, Miss., gets his mail at Freeman Field, Ind., now.

Pvt. George Colburn is with the artillery at Camp Edwards.

Cpl. Dunc. Bisset is with one of Great Falls, Montana's "boom" squadrons.

Pvt. Angus Stewart now picks 'em up and lays 'em down with the Marines at Parris Island.

And Pvt. Andy Jackson is in a medical training battalion at Camp Pickett, Va.

Pvt. Bob MacMackin, son of the Frank MacMackins of 17 Carisbrooke street, has been appointed an aviation cadet at the AAF navigation school at San Marcos, Texas, and transferred to the basic training center at Miami Beach, Fla., to begin working for his wings.

Pvt. Johnny Smythe's signal company has gone from Fort Monmouth, N. J., to Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

Pvt. Jim Skea has been with the Camp Edwards artillery for two months now.

Dick Douglas reports that he's enjoying the paper. He's with a medical regiment at Madison Barracks, N. Y., now.

Pvt. Henry Burbine of Lewis street is on the move again, having been transferred from Will Rogers Field, Okla., to Barksdale Field in Louisiana.

Servicemen's Fund assn. has a nice letter from Lt. Pen Hallowell, who is at sea most of the time lately; Pen liked his Christmas package so well that he sent along a donation to the cause. The Townsman, too, has been arriving pretty regularly.

Cpl. Jim Platt has also sent along thanks for his birthday card; says no place can compare with Andover, and he's seen most of them.

A/C Arthur Sweeney also got his birthday card at the bombardier pre-flight school at Santa Ana, Calif. Arthur evidently thinks the Fund committee is responsible for sending out the paper, which rather embarrasses the committee, since Merrimack Mutual is the actual donor.

Fred Catanzaro got his card in North Africa; says that in Africa, a sailor jumps with joy when someone remembers his birthday. He's also received four Townsmans since he's been across and is looking forward to some more.

Congrats this week to Bill Rockwell of the QM corps, recently promoted to captain at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Lt. Bill Renny of the AAF, after finishing OCS at Miami Beach, Fla., has been transferred to Harrisburg, Penna.

Catherine Smeltzer of Andover street, B'vale, S2c in the SPARS, is now working for the Coast Guard in Washington, D. C.

Pfc. Robert Anderson of Dufton road is with an air base security battalion nowadays in South America. He met another Andover lad down there recently, but couldn't quite place the name.

Pvt. Arthur Hutton is with a headquarters company somewhere in North Africa.

To Doris Manthorne of Washington avenue, so far as we know, goes the honor of being Andover's first woman Marine. She has already been sworn in and will leave soon for New River, N. C.... An unusual circumstance is that her father, Harold N. Manthorne, is an Army lieutenant, stationed at the Bangor, Me., induction station. He's a World War I veteran and was on the reserve list for 18 years before going on active duty in June of last year.

Sic. Charlie Kearn, USCG, stationed at Hog Island, Virginia, is furloughing with the folks, the Fred Kearns of Haggetts Pond road. Like his brother Warren, Charlie is a Punchard grad. Warren, by the way, is attending a naval aviation gunnery and radio school in Memphis, Tenn.

S2c Joe Winters, who used to work for Tyer and drive a truck for Greeley's was one of a group of bluejackets cited after shore action near Gela on Sicily for bravery "in the face of strong air and land opposition." Joe, son of the John Winters of 177 North Main street, has been on active duty since March 3.

Ballardvale

Wando Veits of the Army spent the weekend at his home on Dascumb road.

Bob Greenwood of the Navy, son of the Ralph Greenwoods of Tewksbury street, is home on a five-day furlough after graduating from cooks and bakers school in Philly.

Eddie Palenski, U. S. N., is also furloughing at his home.

Ballardvale has five Naval aviation cadets now: Arthur Edmonds, a graduate of Central Catholic high; John Reading, at Maxwell Field; Frank Donovan, another Punchard boy, in West Virginia; Lester Alleruzzo, at Naval pre-flight in Athens, Ga.; and Leslie Hadley, a Phillips grad, at a So. Cor. air base.

Charlie Bailey of the Navy is spending a few days in the Vale.

Carter's Corner

Milt Perry has finished his basic training at Newport's boot camp and enjoyed a seven-day leave with his folks, the Phil Perrys. He was at Norfolk, Va., for a couple of weeks, and has now left for an overseas base.

Vern Porter's injured shoulder is improved, and he's returned to duty with the Merchant Marine.

Sic. Roland Gallant writes that he saw plenty of "fireworks" the night before the Fourth, but that everything is quiet now. He says the New England fireworks are much better. He wants a hunting knife the worst way, but his folks can't find one to buy. The matter has been referred to the Townsman's Hunting Knife Department.

Cpl. Ivan Myers writes home that he's now working in an office, and for his family not to worry about him. He's supposed to be stationed somewhere in North Africa.

Sgt. Ray Gaudet writes that he recently saw a USO show from the States. It was swell, he said—first white girls he'd seen in six months at his station in the Middle East.

Soldier Describes Beauty Of South Pacific Islands

An unusually eloquent description of the South Pacific islands where so many Andover boys are living and fighting is contained in a letter, dated July 15, written by Pvt. Thomas Fallon, son of the Joseph E. Fallons of 45 High street, to his sister, Mrs. Albert E. Perrault of Methuen.

"Standing here tonight in front of the command post," says the letter, "Listening to the division band preliminary to the movies we are about to see, my eyes moved over the sky above surrounding our position here, and looked upon one of the most beautiful sunsets that God and Nature have ever blended. The sky was a deep gold with a royal purple and Pacific Ocean blue. The huge purple clouds were standing like huge and mighty sentinels and great walls reaching up into the heavens... It was hard to realize that I was on a mission of war and destruction amidst such heavenly beauty.... The scene has just now changed to darkness, and the stars are silent beacons of light peeking down on us from above the palm trees... (which) are standing erect and at attention, with the great branches of palm hanging down over us like a mantle, bringing premature darkness.

"The phonograph we have here is now playing 'The White Cliffs of Dover,' which brings to my mind the thought that natural beauty is expressed by us through words and music which can be made compatible with the beauty of the skies, the mountains, the trees and all nature, thus making it a beautiful world to live in.

"We had quite a tropical storm the other night, and it was strange and thrilling to be in a bed in an open tent with the rains beating down outside, only an arm's length away. The stars at night down here are as big as street lights shining down through the tall spreading cocoanut trees. The cocoanut tree, as you probably know, is perfectly straight with not a twig on it until you reach the top, where you see huge branches hanging all over it with the cocoanuts nestled in the very top...."

FURS YOU CAN DEPEND ON

There is no way of labelling quality in furs. Two Persian Lamb coats, two Minks or Beavers can appear equally attractive to an untrained eye. Only time (or an expert furrier) can reveal the difference. So, you can be sure of getting the best for your money only if you can have confidence in the label in your coat! Weiner's dependability is traditional. You know that . . . everyone does. But, do you know that you pay no more for this label of confidence . . . that we are never knowingly undersold for like quality? WEST PARISH

Observes 88th Birthday

On Monday Mrs. Nellie Wright of Lovejoy road observed her 88th birthday, receiving numerous cards and gifts as well as two handsomely decorated birthday cakes.

Mrs. Wright is remarkably capable for her age, for, besides caring for her household duties, she also maintains, with the help of her daughter, Miss Anne Wright, who lives with her, extensive flower and vegetable gardens. She is in very good health, and attends the West church regularly.

Classes Stop Till September

The groups which have been meeting in the vestry of the West church Mondays and Tuesdays to make surgical dressings will not resume their meetings until September 13 and 14 at the usual hours.

Birth

Sunday at the Lawrence General hospital, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Leo Drouin of River road.

Personals

Mrs. C. E. Wright has returned to her Cleveland home after visiting with her niece, Mrs. Arthur Harvey of Lowell street.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schubert and family of Haverhill street are vacationing at Kezer Falls, Me.

Mrs. Elizabeth Ferrier, with the Misses Jessie Ferrier and Priscilla Batchelder, have returned from a week's stay at Hampton Beach.

Miss Peggy Addison has returned to her Chandler road home after a vacation in New York.

Miss Grace Ganley and Joseph Ganley have returned to Washington, D. C., after visiting their sister, Mrs. Philip Moor.

Mrs. Margaret Jones of Shawshen road is sojourning at Isle-au-Haut, Me.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose Addis and son Peter of Caldwell, New Jersey, are stopping with the Peter Addis' of Lowell street.

Mrs. Herbert Merrick is visiting friends in Brimfield.

The Albert Greenfields of Haverhill street are vacationing at Hill's Beach, Me.

Mrs. Edward Strain has returned from a week's visit with friends in Long Island.

PROMINENT RESIDENT DIES

Mrs. Harriet (Steere) Littlefield, 94, who formerly made her home on Main street, Hampstead, N. H., died at the Coles Convalescent home last Thursday after several months' illness. She was the widow of Charles H. Littlefield.

Born in North Scituate, R. I., she was the daughter of Martin J. and Harriet (Mayo) Steere. Among her survivors is a daughter, Mrs. Walter Lamont of Lowell street.

MARRIAGE INTENTION

Harold McAllister, 100 Massachusetts avenue, North Andover, and Webster Cairnie, 64½ High street.

Mrs. Frances Monro of 105 Chestnut street has returned after a ten-day visit with her son, Sutton Monro, who was recently promoted to lieutenant (junior grade). He is now stationed in Washington, D. C.

Addresses Wanted For Christmas Mail List

The Servicemen's Fund association yesterday made an earnest appeal to the people of Andover to furnish it with the latest addresses and the present ranks and grades of their boys in the service. They may be left with Town Clerk George H. Winslow at the town hall, or any member of the committee.

The association wants the correct addresses because work will shortly begin on sending out Christmas packages to every local serviceman, one of the most popular undertakings the committee has assumed so far. They will want to know well in advance the number of men who should receive packages in order that they may order the materials for them. When the time comes to mail out the gifts, correct addresses will expedite the work. There were many instances, last year, of boys failing to get their packages until several months after Christmas because their families and friends had neglected to furnish the association with their proper addresses.

ADDRESSES CHURCH GROUP

Clarence S. Warner, local resident who edits the magazine, Destiny, circulated in other countries as well as the United States, delivered an interesting talk before the Courteous Circle of the King's Daughters in the South church vestry Monday evening. He took as his topic, "Future news in the light of the Bible," which he treated with interest as well as authority.

A brief business meeting preceded the open session, at which friends of the members were invited to be present for the group's annual guest night.

WHAT'S THE RUSH ?

It must be the same with all the other business houses, too — and so in behalf of them as well as ourselves, we're going to make a request.

Please look ahead — anticipate your needs. Don't let your shoes go until you can step on a dime and tell whether it's a 1942 or a 1939 ten-cent piece. Give your cobbler a little time in which to do them. And don't keep all your shirts in the hamper until the day comes when the laundry just has to rush them through.

And look over your printing needs NOW. We have a great deal of work here — and the printing that is now necessary to expedite production of 50-caliber bullets and the rubber military needs MUST come first. Bring in your bona-fide rush work; we'll get it out somehow or other — but please help by looking ahead as much as possible. There are things you can't foresee — we'll take care of you, but if you can allow a week or more between your order and delivery, we would appreciate it.

THIS WEEK AT THE PLAYGROUNDS

Shawsheen

Young Audrey Tuttle was adjudged to have the best entry in the decorated vehicle parade held last Friday evening at the Shawsheen playground, and was awarded the gold medal. Norman Miller and Miss May Elander acted as judges.

The winners in the various divisions were:

Bicycles: Audrey Tuttle, first; Ray Simmers and Peter Miller, tied for second; Lewis Fiedler and Tommy Wilkinson, tied for third.

Tricycles: David Wilkinson, first; Guy Medor, second; Dickie Medor, third.

Carriages: Joan Barry, first; Janet Thompson, second; Bernice Parker and Gail Thompson, tied for third.

Central

It was baby popularity night at the Central playground Friday, and the "young set" turned out in full force. Rita and Eva Tatarunis, six month old twins, won the finals in the competition.

Winners in the other groups were:

Under one year—Joseph Slavin, entered by Mary Slavin.

Under two years—Betty Campbell, entered by Mary Morrissey, first; Geraldine Amerault, entered by Janet Hall, second; Carol Davis, entered by Marjorie Davis, third.

Under three years—Louis McIntyre, entered by Anne Winters, first; Eleanor Webster, by Mary Young, second; Howard Stickney, by William Ruel, third.

Under four years—Estelle Heletz, by Phyllis, first; Judith Barker, by Mary Ellen Barker, second; Frances Mauck, by Claire Naylor, third.

Ballardvale

Over 200 were present at the successful doll show held on the playgrounds Friday night. The children brought their favorite dolls, and dolls of all sizes were much in evidence as they marched where the judges made the awards.

Division entries and winners were:

Best dressed doll: Lucille Sherry, blue ribbon; other entries by Nancy White, Patricia Murnane, Ann Morton, Joan Wilson, Caroline Evans, Barbara Foley, Paula Coates, Ann Froberg, Elizabeth Chaplin.

Doris Nicoll won the blue ribbon for the most unusual doll; James Evans also had an entry.

Ruth Mears took top honors for the smallest doll, Norma Kibbee for the largest; Dolly Lawrence also had an entry.

Harriet Schofield was judged to have the best entry in the next group, competing with Joan Myers, Priscilla Colpitts, Jane Grandmont, and Lucille Sherry.

Ann Whalen had the best baby doll in the opinion of the judges, winning over Janice Marian, Jean Whalen, Sylvia Zalla, Ann Morton, Lucille Sherry, Joan Lakin, and Elizabeth Chaplin.

Arthur Marlon, the only entrant, won the blue ribbon for the oldest doll.

Mrs. Ralph Greenwood and Mrs. Fred O'Hara served as judges, the other officials being George Zink and Misses Catherine Sweeney and Barbara Loomer of the playground staff.

DEATHS

Mrs. Marie Antoinette (Kellner) Deschamphelacre, widow of Peter Deschamphelacre, died last Friday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frederick R. Hulme of 7 Punchard avenue. A native of Belgium, she had made her home in Andover for the past eleven years.

Surviving besides Mrs. Hulme is another daughter, Mrs. John Tracy of Amsterdam, N. Y.

The body was forwarded to Amsterdam Saturday by Everett M. Lundgren, funeral director. The funeral was held there, and burial followed in Friendsdale cemetery, Gloversdale, N. Y.

George Faucher, 39, of 69 North street, died early Friday morning at the Clover Hill hospital after a brief illness. He had moved to Andover only two weeks ago, previously residing in Lawrence for 23 years.

The funeral was held from the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Elzire Levasseur, 71 Plymouth street, Methuen, Monday morning, with a mass of requiem in St. Therese's church, Methuen. Burial was in Sacred Heart cemetery, Lawrence.

A Boston newspaper recently printed the following about a man known to many Andover people; "The Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities has lost the services, by death, of Ernest W. Wright, one of the oldest members of the department in point of service. Mr. Wright joined the predecessor department to the DPU in 1915, and at the time of his death was senior accountant. He specialized in financial reports of street railways and railroads."

He is survived by his widow and two daughters, one of whom is Mrs. Frederick C. Smith of 61 Chestnut street.

Long prominent here in church and social circles, Mrs. Mary Blanche (Whitlock) Carlton, widow of Frank Tyler Carlton, died Sunday evening at the Lawrence General hospital.

She was born in Bellaire, Ohio, March 15, 1868, but spent her girlhood in Cleveland, where she prepared for college. She was graduated from Wellesley in 1892, having elected the five year course with music. She was married the following year, and had lived here ever since.

A devoted member of the South church, she served as deaconess, superintendent of the home department, and teacher and counselor for the A. P. C. sorority ever since its formation by members of her class.

She entered into all form of club activity with enthusiasm, giving her best for the success of each. She was made a charter member of the Historical society and was active in the Andover Village Improvement society. She was twice president of the November club, 1911-1913 and 1927-1928.

Surviving are two sons, Edward W. of Los Angeles, Calif., and F. Tyler Carlton of Andover.

The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the Lundgren funeral home, with services conducted at the South church at 3 o'clock by Rev. Frederick B. Noss. Interment was in South church cemetery.

Baseball

Despite the unfavorable condition of the playing field, the Townies won its ninth straight, Pitcher Bob Burnham's eleventh straight over the Malden Twilights last Sunday.

Playing conditions on the field were not what they might have been, as the long grass in both the infield and outfield slowed up ground balls, and the base lines were not clearly defined.

The grass has been cut during this week, however, by Board of Public Works employees and Jerome W. Cross, Jr., has contributed several truckloads of clay for the base-paths, which will be put down and rolled shortly.

Sunday's 5-4 win was an impressive one, as the Malden Twilights had won 24 games and lost 6 to date, and their pitcher, Richards, had a 14-2 record. The Twilights are in the playoffs, this week, for the championship of the Boston Suburban League.

Sunday's game went ten innings, Andover scoring two runs in that frame for the winning margin, while Malden got one.

With one away, visitors at bat in the tenth, Richards ws hit by a pitched ball, and Sullivan, running for him, stole second. Kaplan singled to left center to score Sullivan, putting Malden ahead, 4 to 3.

When Andover came to bat, Gene Blier led off with a single to right. Gartside beat out a projected sacrifice for a hit, both men being safe, and Monroe dropped a hit along the third base line to load the bases.

McEvoy, the next batter, cleverly waited out Richards, got a walk and forced in Blierer with the tying run, and Foster lobbed one between the pitcher's box and first base to bring in Monroe.

The only other scoring by the Townies had come in the sixth, when they were three runs behind. Moher drew a walk, and Blier hit a terrific home run over the center fielder's head. A single by Gartside, an error and a single by Foster added another run to the tally.

The Andover team played under a considerable handicap, Al Miller, second baseman, playing the first three innings despite a severe case of grippe, and Walter Gartside at short turning in a sparkling game despite a high temperature and terrific cold. Gartside played the full ten innings, but Miller gave way to Frank McEvoy at the end of the third inning.

One of the reats

General Douglas MacArthur is a very good General and it is to be hoped that the American people will always remember that he is a very good General. His prestige before the Phillipine invasion was undisputed, for his military genius had been displayed in many ways before. The superbly effected withdrawal to Bataan and the courageous struggle in that peninsula and at Corregidor provided a splendid background for the real thrill that the American people got the day they found that the "expendables" and he had safely, and almost miraculously, escaped to Australia.

Yes, he is a truly great General, but that doesn't mean that he'd be a truly great President. Unfortunately, some of our zealous patriots, together with a few Republicans who seem to feel that the party requires a colorful man like MacArthur to put the party back in presidential power, are promoting the General as a 1944 candidate.

We have to be very careful whom we choose as our next President. The American people seem to have an aptitude for making a poor choice after a war. General Grant, with all his shortcomings, did a pretty good job of ending up the Civil War, but his Presidential terms provided one of the sorriest pages in American history. After the last war we chose Warren Harding, whose brief term proved to be a very unfortunate one. Therefore, it would pay us to be very, very careful and choose our President not because he was a great General, but because he has those qualities which will be sorely needed in the man who has to lead us back to "normalcy." It is going to be a difficult period in American history and in World history. We will need a man who can guide our National economic structure back into peacetime channels again. We are going to need a man who can also guide our country through the serious International problems that will confront the world. We are going to need a man who is both businessman and statesman.

General MacArthur will go down in history as one of our great Generals, but we must realize now that we don't want him to go down in history as one of our poorest Presidents.

This Sober Town

Speaking of iron men:

The Andover town team, local baseball aggregation, this year boasts the services of a Frank McEvoy of North Andover, as first sacker. Frank, however, works every other Sunday at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, and his schedule on those days runs something like this:

He's up at 3 a. m., and reports to work at the Navy Yard about an hour later. He does a good day's work, and gets back to North Andover about 3:15. His mother has a little meal ready, and his uniform laid out on the bed. Frank eats, dresses, jumps into a waiting car and is whisked over to Andover.

The usual Sunday game is already under way, so Frank trots over to the bench to report, then goes out on the field to play the remaining innings.

Last Sunday Al Miller of the Andover club had a bad case of the grippe, but decided to stick in the game as long as he could. He lasted till the end of the third inning, when he was relieved by — you guessed it — Frank McEvoy.

We received this week a communication which we were compelled to throw in the wastebasket because it did not state who its author was. We are willing enough to print a letter signed by "A Citizen," "Indignant Taxpayer," "Father of Five" or anything like that, but we must have the author's name for our own protection.

Freedom of the press means freedom to fight, not freedom to assassinate. It's OK to hit a fellow in a fair fight in broad daylight, but not to stab him in the back at midnight as he passes through a dark alley.

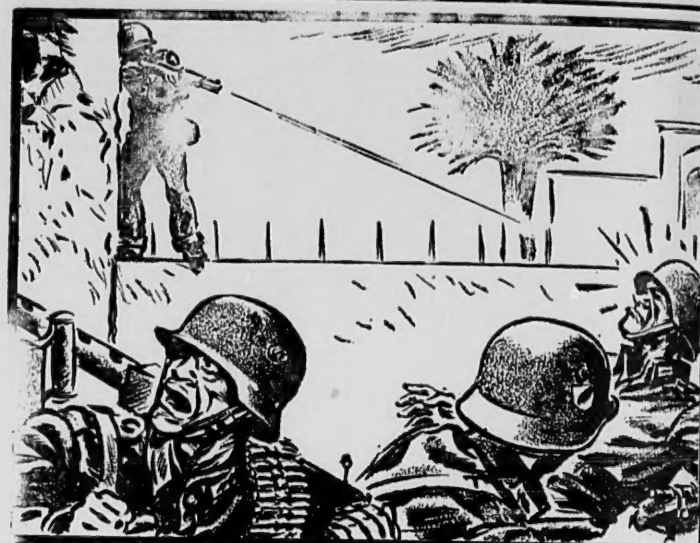

We have been greatly amused, during the past few months especially, by the sonorous "prestige" ads appearing in the national magazines. We turn over page after page, seeing massive streamers like "Tonight there's a bomber's moon," or "Uncle Sam's chow is next best to Mom's," "Tanks today—tractors tomorrow" and the like. It often appears to us that the national firms won't stoop so low as to try to sell us anything any more.

Generally these ads generate food for admiring thought, like "Amalgamated Baling Wire is certainly doing great things with their new subradiograph detectors." But they make us a little jealous, too, and we often wonder if we would stand any chance of winning the war without International Flypaper backing us up.

So we were quite amused at a film firm's flim flam (don't try to read this aloud) in a national mag

AMERICAN HEROES

BY LEFF

Because he scaled the walls of the fortification at Kasba-Mehdia, French Morocco, and from that hazardous position diverted the attention of the enemy with his rifle fire, enabling our troops to enter through the main gates of the fort, Pfc. U. S. Treasury Department last week. It contained a picture of a paratrooper falling through space with his helmet hurtling down about 20 yards behind him. The inference was that he had lost his helmet while bailing out, and some smart photographer was alert enough to get a picture of the incident.

We say that if the paratrooper had his helmet on when he bailed out, he couldn't possibly lead it by 20 yards at any point in his descent. If anything, the helmet would fall faster than he did, even before his parachute opened.

We've written the film firm about it, but we don't suppose it'll do us any good.

Events in Germany this week have inspired us with a poem, which, if you can bear it, runs about as follows:

ODE ON THE REPUTED DECLINE AND FALL OF A. HITLER

On Hitler we have often wasted
Our hate, suspicion, animus.
But now is seems his goose is basted;
The Germans like him less than us.

Ill fares the head that wears a crown,
And worse the hand that heils the Fuehrer;
The Germans wore their shirts of brown,
For richer, yes, but not for poorer.

So Hitler's fall from power is near,
The German radio's inferring.
His power's passed to friends once
dear —
Keitel, Doenitz and Goering.

To keep the Allies off the lands of Germany, they think the fight'll
Go along better in the hands of Doenitz, Goering and Keitel.

We're waiting for that happy day
When U. S. soldiers will say, "Oh, nuts!"
And sound the gentle Bronx by way
Of Goering, Keitel and Doenitz.

Demonstration Flights For Prospective Cadets

"Wings Over America", a color-ful aviation exhibit, is being shown at the Institute of Modern Art, 140 Newbury street, Boston, all day to-day. The collection of official Fly-ing Training Command traces the training of an aviation cadet from its beginning to the presentation of the coveted wings.

To further interest in aviation cadet training among young men, the Civil Air Patrol, with the New England Aviation Cadet commit-tee, is sponsoring a series of dem-onstration flights for men between 17 and 27 on a series of Saturday afternoons. Young men present will draw in a lottery, 15 winners being entitled to the free flights. The schedule of flights will be: East Boston, Saturday; Barnstable, Aug-ust 21; Beverly, August 28; Fitch-burg, September 4; East Spring-field, September 11; Worcester, September 18; Northampton, Sep-tember 25.

evening, and that the downstairs tenement is unoccupied. Someone evidently had tried to enter by means of a key, and, failing that, had gained admittance through a window off the back porch. There was no damage or loss.

Also on Friday, John W. Done of 32 Cuba street reported that a pocketbook containing $4 had been taken from his car at Pumps Pond. A serviceman in swimming at the pond reported, also, that his clothes had been rifled, and a ticket to Boston, $2.50 in cash, a pencil clip and his service papers had been taken.

Tuesday, the police were called to the Andover Guild, where four boys were pulling shingles off the building, two "working" on the roof, two on the sides. The boys were brought to the station and informed that they caused damage of $100 to $150, and that they would be expected to make restitu-tion.

Except for a few, the paintings are offered for sale. Inquiries may be made in the Gallery office.

There are 77 paintings in the ex-hibit, in both watercolor and oil. Rockport, Portsmouth, Mt. Mans-field, Vermont landscapes, Isle au Haut, are some of the scenes de-picted. One in particular, "Topsfield Fair", lent by the artist, William McNulty, should bring back mem-ories to fair-goers of other years.

Two local artists are represented in the album. Frances Dalton has lent her "Sunflowers", done in oil, and Harry Sutton, Jr., is showing his watercolor, "Country Road."

Dorothy Davis, clerk in the rationing board office, is spending a week's vacation in New Jersey.

WEDDINGS

Shelley—Downs

At a ceremony performed at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Martin's Pond Union Baptist church, North Reading, Miss Mil-dred I. Downs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Downs of South Main street, was united in marriage with Charles F. Shelley, son of Mrs. George W. Shelley of 14 Forest street, Natick. Rev. Robert S. Stansfield of Auburn, N. Y., former pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride, who was given in mar-riage by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, with a fingertip veil of il-lusion in coronet style. She car-ried a New Testament trimmed with a corsage of white gladiola buds and swansons.

Miss Marybelle Moulton, a col-lege classmate, was maid of honor, wearing a pink lace gown. She carried a bouquet of variegated gladioli.

George E. Shelley of Dorchester, the bridegroom's brother, served as his best man. The ushers were Walter S. Downs, Jr., and Ernest D. Shelley, brothers of the bride and bridegroom.

Mrs. Downs wore a grey and rose printed silk dress.

The bridegroom's mother wore an orchid printed silk dress, with a corsage in harmony.

The bride is a graduate of the Gordon College of Theology and Missions with the class of 1943. Mr. Shelley is studying for the ministry at Gordon college.

After a wedding trip to Rumney, N. H., the couple will reside at 37 Old Morton street, Mattapan.

hall; and on Thursday a musicale, probably in George Washington hall.

Following a free hour, fellowship groups meet in all the dormitories at 9:10. There will be one evening course at Abbot academy from 8:15 to 9:45 on "How to improve our church school," taught by various members of the faculty. Vesper services, at 6:30, beginning Monday, will take place on the slope east of George Washington hall, led by Dr. Meek, who will serve as chaplain.

The morning program, at Abbot academy, begins with a worship service at 8:00, followed by four 50-minute class study periods. At the same time, beginning at 9:00 and concluding at 11:45, an observation school, under the direction of Dr. Edna M. Acheson of Rochester, N. Y., will take place in the South church, in which some 75 local children will participate.

Their parents have been invited to a tea at the church, Saturday at 3:30, to meet the faculty, with Mrs. Edwin L. Bramley, secretary of the Parent-Teachers association, in charge of light refreshments.

Afternoons will be devoted to rest and study, then hobby or interest groups at 2:30, followed by recreation. Another attractive feature will be a series of travelogues at 4:15 in the John-Esther Art Gallery, to which the public is invited without charge.

Speakers and topics are as follows: Monday—"Shawls of Many Lands" by Mrs. Frank L. Brigham; Tuesday—"Our Hemisphere Neighbors," Mrs. Eleanor Gulick Guttererson; Wednesday—"Glimpses of Beauty," Mrs. Kenneth Minard; Thursday—"The Development of American Art," Miss Fonnle E. Davis.

Social headquarters for younger pupils will be at Peabody House, and for adults at Baronial hall, through the courtesy of Burton S. Flagg, who, with James Gould, Henry Hopper and many others, has given much time and thought to the success of the school. The Memorial Hall Library and the Oliver Wendell Holmes Library have placed their facilities at the disposal of the school. The 250 students and faculty will eat and sleep at Phillips academy.

Visitors should register at the school office at McKean hall, using the Abbot street entrance. The telephone number is 950.

The admission charge to one or more classes in the mornings is 50 cents, and to most of the evening meetings, 25 cents. The tuition fee for the week is $6.00 and Andover people are invited to take advantage of this unusual opportunity.

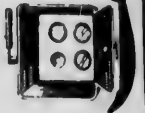

Radio broadcasts, over WLAW, in the interest of the school, may be heard Saturday at 7:30 p. m., Sunday at 12:15 and Wednesday at 4:30.

R. W. R. MEETING PLANNED

A meeting will be held August 22 at 3 p. m. at 387 Erving avenue, Lawrence, to discuss methods of broadening Russian War Relief. All persons interested are invited.

The Russians are currently in need of clean, usable clothes, medical instruments, watches and foods in concentrated form. Persons wishing to contribute these should drop a card to the above address, and the articles will be collected.

DEATHS

Mrs. Jennie (Ray) Judge, well-known resident here for a number of years, died Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Homer C. Judge of 93 Summer street. She was the widow of Arthur Judge. Born in England, she resided in Lawrence and Methuen before coming to Andover to live. She was a member of Christ church.

Surviving besides her daughter are two sons, Arthur Judge of Salem and Sgt. Raymond Judge, U. S. A., now stationed in California; two grandsons, Homer, Jr., and Arthur, Jr.; and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from the late home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with services conducted by Rev. John S. Moses. Burial was in Bellevue cemetery, Lawrence.

* * *

One of West Parish's oldest residents, Mrs. Mary (Lorden) McGovern, 92, of 46 North street, died Sunday evening at the Lawrence General hospital. She was the widow of James McGovern.

Born in Bradford, England, she had been a resident here since early childhood, and, just previous to her last confinement, she had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. John C. Collins of North street.

Other survivors are: four sons, Joseph, Henry, Sylvester and Louis; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

The funeral was held Wednesday morning, with a solemn high mass of requiem in St. Patrick's church, Lawrence, at 9 o'clock. Burial was in Immaculate Conception cemetery in that city.

* * *

John L. Collins, 59, of 15 Franklin street, Haverhill, was found dead on the roof of a Haverhill building August 2 after suffering a heart attack. He was inspector of elevators for the City of Haverhill, and had been performing his duties in that office when stricken with the attack. It was only after 24 hours had passed, after his family had become alarmed by his absence, that his body was discovered by a fellow workman.

He was born in Andover and attended the schools here. Among his local survivors are a sister, Miss Margaret Collins, and two brothers, William and Frank Collins.

The funeral was held from the late home last Thursday morning, with a high mass of requiem at St. James church, Haverhill, at 9 o'clock. Burial was in that city.

"The War's Going To End"

We don't know when — but it certainly will. They always have, even if sometimes they've only really been adjourned.

But — too many people are forgetting that it will end. The retailer, for instance, has been having his troubles from customers who don't seem to realize that the war hasn't ended yet, customers who insist on demanding things that a fellow can't get or demanding service that a fellow can't give. But that's not the only trouble the retailer has — the wholesalers who once tried so hard to sell their wares have become independent all of a sudden — some of them, anyway.

The point is that the retailers are remembering which of the wholesalers tried to help and which of them became dicta-torially "snooty." The war is going to end, and the ones who tried to help will reap the gains. And the point is that you too should remember which of the retailers tried their very best to help you, for the war is going to end — and then they should reap their gains. Chances are you'll find it was the fellow who lived right here in town that tried to accommodate you — not the big outfits controlled by a man out-of-town who doesn't know you at all.

So remember your neighbor when the war ends. He's doing his job well — for you.
